Launch of U-Report: PakAvaz

Launch of UNICEF's flagship innovation programme UReport: PakAvaz in Pakistan. This interactive text-based social monitoring tool has been designed for young people and community residents to strengthen community development and citizens' engagements. It works by allowing citizens to respond to polls asking for their opinion and feedback on a variety of social and governance issues through free text messages. The data is mapped and analysed in real-time giving government and development partners an insight into the needs of their citizens.
