Details:

UN WOMEN has globally launched its flagship report, titled, “Progress of The World’s Women, 2015-2016: Transforming Economies, Realizing Rights”. The report highlights that twenty years after the Beijing Conference, there is a strong and growing global consensus on the need to achieve gender equality. The world has made significant strides towards this goal, but those achievements have not yet yielded equal outcomes for women and girls. As the Member States are poised to agree on a new set of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), this report is aimed to take stock, to acknowledge the progress that has been made, but also to focus on where we need to redouble our efforts, to achieve substantive equality and the realization of human rights for all women and girls.

You are cordially invited to the event for press coverage.
